Top 15 Morris Library Tips for New Faculty

1. Start from the website just for faculty
   We’ve developed a website, For Faculty and Instructors, with all the tips and links you need to get started at Morris Library: http://www.lib.siu.edu/faculty or find all our resources from: http://www.lib.siu.edu/.

2. Use your SIU ID card as your library card
   Bring your SIU ID card to the Library when you want to check out materials or use other library services. If you would like to have your graduate student pick up items for you, fill out a Proxy form at the 1st floor Circulation Desk: http://www.lib.siu.edu/proxy-policy.

3. Put readings on Course Reserves
   You can place course readings on print or electronic reserves through the Circulation Desk: http://lib.siu.edu/reserves The Library does not order textbooks, but you may place your personal desk copy of the course textbook on print reserves for your students to use for a limited period of time.

4. Meet your Liaison Librarian or My Librarian
   We have a librarian (Liaison Librarian; My Librarian) assigned to each academic department. The Liaison Librarian facilitates communication between the teaching faculty and the Library, as well as helps faculty with research or library instruction needs. See the list of Liaison Librarians at: http://www.lib.siu.edu/my-librarian.

5. Schedule a Library Research Workshop for your class
   Morris Library offers instruction, tours, and customized online materials designed to teach students about information access, evaluation, and use either in general or integrated with course content. Schedule with your Liaison Librarian or online: http://lib.siu.edu/library-classes.

6. Stop by the Information Desk and SalukiTech for help with research or technology
   Highly-trained library faculty and staff assist with information and research questions while SalukiTech staff help with SIU accounts and configure and troubleshoot personal devices. Visit Ask a Librarian (http://libguides.lib.siu.edu/askalibrarian) for research help from anywhere.

7. Borrow from another library
   If we don’t have a published item you need, we will obtain it from another library (http://lib.siu.edu/other-libraries), but you will need two different accounts: I-Share (Illinois system to retrieve books from 82 different libraries within two days) and Interlibrary Loan (international system to obtain articles, media, and books). Use I-Share to request books and Interlibrary Loan to request articles. Online account creation steps: http://www.lib.siu.edu/set-up-library-accounts.
8. Add the Library to Your SIU Online Course
   Empower your students to quickly access library materials and connect with a research expert from anywhere. If you are using SIU Online, encourage your students to use the library resources embedded within your course shell. If they need additional help, they can always chat, call, or email a librarian through the “Ask A Librarian” link: http://www.lib.siu.edu/ask-a-librarian.

9. Escape to the Faculty Research Room
   The Library has reserved Room 580A for faculty to drop in and work on research or writing projects in peace and quiet. Just stop by the Circulation Desk for the key. You may reserve a Faculty Research Room for up to one semester if you need to use many library materials or have an extended research project. http://www.lib.siu.edu/research-rooms

10. Take Advantage of the Special Collections Research Center (SCRC)
    SCRC collects and preserves unique and rare historical materials in selected subject areas including Southern Illinois history, rare books, manuscripts, and SIU archives. Special collections of note include American philosophy, First Amendment freedoms, American and British Twentieth century literature and theatre, and political papers. SCRC faculty and staff assist with integrating primary source material into courses and provide class sessions on using these unique materials: http://www.lib.siu.edu/scrc

11. Submit your publications to Open SIUC or obtain funding to publish in Open Access journals
    Morris Library offers an institutional repository where you can publish your research and scholarly materials for free, which increases their visibility and use: http://opensiuc.lib.siu.edu/. Through the COPE Fund, Morris Library finances the fees to publish your research article in an Open Access journal: http://lib.siu.edu/cope.

12. Learn about Copyright and Intellectual Property
    Librarians maintain an online guide that provides accurate, up-to-date information about copyright, intellectual property, plagiarism, and other related topics: http://www.lib.siu.edu/copyright-scholarly.

13. Get information about Citation Management
    Visit the Library’s online guide to the common citation management systems such as Zotero: http://www.lib.siu.edu/zotero and EndNote: http://www.lib.siu.edu/endnoteweb.

14. Tell your students about the other (non-library) services in Morris Library
    Several departments useful to faculty and students are strategically located in Morris Library: Honors Program, Writing Center, Math Lab, and Center for Teaching Excellence. Delyte’s Café offers Seattle’s Best Coffee beverages, snacks, sandwiches, and other foods.

15. Academic support services on the Morris Library 6th and 7th floors
    The 6th floor is designed upon an integrated math education model that includes classrooms and labs with support. Learning Support Services and the Testing Lab occupy space on the 7th floor. Both floors feature flexible classrooms, study spaces, and technology stations where students can work together collaboratively.
